

GREAT BRITAIN, GERMANY AND FRANCE AGREE TO ADOPT NO NEW POLICY TOWARD MEXICO UNTIL U. S. GOVERNMENT SUBMITS NEW PLAN

United States Will Submit for Consideration a Definite Plan for Treatment of Mexico.

HUERTA MUST YIELD TO FOUR GREAT POWERS

With the Three Powers Joining the United States in a Demand for Huerta's Resignation and to Conduct a Fair Election It Is Asserted That Huerta Would Have to Yield.

must be transferred from the American war vessel. They may be placed aboard a commercial liner bound for Havana or New York as they chose. It was believed here tonight that Diaz and his friends would ask to be placed aboard an American boat and that until such disposition could be made of them, Admiral Fletcher would permit them to remain aboard one of the United States ships in Mexican waters. As to the future treatment of Mexico by the United States and other nations there has been much discussion both here and abroad since the election Sunday under supervision of the Huerta provisional government. President Wilson in two public speeches has outlined a general policy of international co-operation with all Latin-American nations and from France and England have come assurances of a desire to co-operate with the United States upon some concerted effort to restore peace and good government in Mexico. Germany, which recently sent a war vessel to American waters, now has signified a desire to enter such a co-operative peace-making enterprise.

U. S. Must Take Initiative.
That all the foreign nations are looking to the United States to take the initiative is certain and the situation presented makes it imperative that this government submit a plan.

The United States requested the powers to await a proposal several days ago and since that time the note has been in preparation. There is much speculation as to what is to be proposed but it is declared to be certain that whatever the plan, it will demand the elimination of Huerta and the government which arose after the revolt against Madero and provide for a constitutional election in Mexico which can be recognized by the United States.

Could Demand Resignation.
With Great Britain, Germany and France joining the United States in a demand for Huerta's resignation and to conduct a free and fair election it has been asserted confidently by officials high in authority here, that Huerta would yield and that a new government would be established without intervention. This would necessitate a cessation of all hostilities and co-operation on the part of Mexican revolutionists. The evidence of the sincerity of France in the proposed co-operative Mexican policy came today in a request by that government that the United States send a warship to protect her nationals in San Ignacio, Sinaloa, on the Pacific coast of Mexico.

Minister Denies Rumor.
Mexico City, Oct. 28.—A report which gained much currency here tonight that General Victoriano Huerta had offered to resign the presidency in favor of David de la Huerta, former minister of communications and the candidate of the liberal Republicans in the recent election, was later characterized as absolutely untrue by the Norwegian Minister Michael Stromlie, who had been credited with being one of the principals in the incident.

According to the report, Minister Stromlie called on President Huerta, accompanied by several other European diplomats and pointed out to him the danger of complications with the United States expressing a desire to help to avoid this. General Huerta was said to have responded that if the foreign governments would guarantee the safety of himself, his family and his property, he was willing to resign and would choose David de la Huerta as his successor.

When seen late tonight the Norwegian minister said that there was not the slightest foundation for the story. He denied having seen President Huerta on any subject that had any connection with such action.

The American Charge d'Affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy declared that he knew nothing of it.

Senator Moreno, minister of foreign affairs, was in conference for a considerable time with the president this evening but the nature of their discussion was not disclosed.

Transferred to Louisiana.
Vera Cruz, Oct. 28.—General Diaz was transferred this afternoon to the battleship Louisiana. Rear-admiral Fletcher's flagship.

He was allotted quarters in the ward room.

CHICAGO BANKERS BE WILDERED BY PROVISIONS OF INCOME TAX

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Chicago bankers and their legal counsel with only a few hours left to make proper preparation for meeting provisions of the income tax law, today admitted themselves absolutely bewildered.

They have been in consultation night and day for weeks.

Yesterday a local banker received information from Washington that regulations published Sunday to govern collection of the tax were to be suspended. This caused consternation until denial was received today and the statement made that the treasury department was engaged in clarifying the language of the certificates.

"To be ready by November 10 to meet requirements of the law we must know the form of the certificates by tonight at the latest," said Levy Mayer, counsel for the Continental & Commercial National bank today. "There is a lot of printing to be done and the whole thing must be in the hands of the printers by tomorrow at the latest; they should have had the manuscript today. Otherwise the individual banks will have to go ahead according to their individual guesses as to what is wanted."

SURETIES MUST MAKE GOOD TO THE STATE

CERTAIN SUMS ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN DRAWN IRREGULARLY

Sureties on Bonds of Former State Treasurer Rufus N. Ramsey and S. Wilson Must Pay the State $16,467—Other Supreme Court Decisions.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 28.—Sureties on the bonds of former State Treasurer Rufus N. Ramsey and Edwin S. Wilson must make good to the state certain sums alleged to have been irregularly drawn by these officials during their incumbency.

So the Illinois supreme court today ruled in two cases. As John A. King, Chicago surety on the bonds of both the former officials mentioned the decision is particularly unfortunate for him. The Wilson case involved the sum of $8,416 drawn from the registered bond fund. The Ramsey case involved the sum of $8,051.

The supreme court affirmed the judgment of the circuit court of Cook county holding invalid the Chicago city ordinance prohibiting the erection of an ice house within 400 feet of a church.

The court sustained the municipal court of Chicago as to its jurisdiction in cases of vagabondage.

Case Remanded for Trial.
Judgment on a verdict fixing damages of $35,000 against the Chicago sanitary district for the overflow of lands near La Salle was reversed and the cause remanded for trial. The plaintiff in the case is the La Salle County Carbon Coal company.

Both the municipal court of Chicago and the appellate court of the first district "erred," the former in finding for the defendant and the latter in reversing the judgment—says the supreme court in the case of Eugene Blake vs. The Debonair Hotel and Restaurant company. Mrs. Blake, a guest at the hotel, left jewelry valued at $3,225 in the safe over night. The next morning it was found that the safe had been robbed and she brought suit to recover the amount. The trial court found for the defendant, but upon appeal the appellate court gave the plaintiff judgment for the full amount sued for. In reversing and remanding the case the supreme court ordered that the plaintiff should grant a new trial.

The state board of agriculture is held to be a quasi corporation and as a part of the state government cannot be sued for damages in a decision of the supreme court in the case of Jessie P. Miner vs. the State Board of Agriculture.

Remands Corkery Case.
When Mary Corkery, 34, died before death made her will, involving $440,000, she was mentally sound, according to the supreme court, which reverses and remands to the superior court of Cook county the case of Michael E. Austin vs. Johannes Austin. A jury in the lower court found that Mrs. Corkery was not mentally capable of making her will.

The award by lot of a township highway commissioner to Earl Constant in the county court of Logan county was affirmed by the court.

The question of counting ballots upon which Constant's name was either not clearly written or upon which another name apparently meant for "Constant" had been written was raised and the court ruled that the intention of the voters in these cases should govern decisions.

Private individuals cannot be permitted to question the constitutionality.

FIRST DAY OF MARTIAL LAW IN SOUTHERN COLORADO IS MARKED BY FIERCE BATTLES

BERWIND, Colo., Oct. 28.—Three battles, the hottest fought since the strike of coal miners in southern Colorado began, marked the first day of martial law in this district. One mine guard killed, four union men wounded, two badly; two children of non-union men shot, one mine guard missing and a county marshal wounded, were the casualties of the three fights, one here, one at Tabasco and the other at Hastings. It was in Hastings that the most serious fighting took place and it was there that the mine guard was killed and the strikers wounded. The mine camp had been hemmed in on two sides by the strikers who climbed the steep hills of either side of the canon during the night and at daylight began shooting into the camp. Mine officials had been notified that Marshal Robinson with deputies was on his way to the mine camps and when the fighting started they made a rush out of the stockade in an attempt to locate the marshal's party. Not more than 25 guards were defending Hastings when the miners attacked them and for almost an hour the battle raged out in the hills surrounding the mine. Then the strikers, who numbered, it is said, approximately 300 men, succeeded in driving them back to the mine. According to the story told by strikers and guards alike, Alexander had shot a Greek striker through the leg, the fighting being at a very close range at that time, and another Greek, one of four who had attacked the guard, fired a bullet through his skull. At Alexander's

DEADLOCK OVER CURRENCY REFORM

Senate Committee Divided on Proposition for Government Owned Central Bank

ARE JOINED BY HITCHCOCK

Five Republicans on Committee Argue for Central Bank Statement and Are Joined by Senator Hitchcock, Democrat

VOTE IS DELAYED UNTIL TODAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A threatened deadlock in the senate banking and currency committee over the proposal to substitute a government-owned central bank for the regional reserve bank plan, in the administration currency bill became apparent today when the committee began executive consideration of the measure. Discussion was confined to the central reserve bank statement and while no vote was taken the debate disclosed six senators for the government-controlled central bank and six for the administration regional system.

The five Republicans on the committee—Senators Weeks, McLean, Nelson, Crawford and Bristow—argued for the central bank statement. They were joined by Senator Hitchcock, one of the Democrats who has exposed the bill in many of its provisions. Senator Reed and O'Gorman, who had expressed themselves in favor of the central bank plan, swung into line with the other Democrats for the administration plan.

Vote Will Be Taken Today.

The vote was delayed until tomorrow and Chairman Owen at the close of the evening's session said that he believed that the administration plan would be finally adopted.

"Both sides have shown a conciliatory disposition," he said, "and I believe the vote tomorrow will dispose of the matter to everybody's satisfaction. The matter will be thoroughly discussed before a vote is taken."

To Reduce Number of Banks.
Members of the committee tonight expressed the belief that in view of the opposition to the central bank scheme that plan would be rejected but that the committee would take advantage of the president's concession to reduce the number of regional reserve banks provided for by the bill from twelve to as low as four or five. A compromise plan along these lines was suggested yesterday by Prof. J. W. Jenks. Under his plan the profits of the federal reserve banks would be pooled and distributed to the capital stock. The reserves would be pooled under the control of the federal board. This Professor Jenks said, would unify the system.

Senate and House May Disagree.
Disagreement between the senate and house over protection of life on vessels plying the great lakes and the inland waters of the United States was predicted today when the seamen's servitude bill which recently passed the senate went to the lower house for approval.

Chairman Alexander of the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries, to which the bill was referred, declared that he would object to the provisions of the bill making it mandatory for boats plying inland waters to carry as full life boat equipment as sea craft. Mr. Alexander said carriers on inland waters do not require the equipment of an ocean liner to ensure safety.

U. S. MAILS MOVING ON NORMAL SCHEDULES

FEDERAL SECRET SERVICE MEN GUARD TRUCKS CARRYING THE MAILS

Vice President of New York Branch of Chauffeurs' Union and Other Prisoners Are Held by a U. S. Commissioner on a Charge with Interfering With the Transportation of Mails.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Guarded by policemen and federal secret service men, the United States mails were being moved about the city tonight on normal schedules that had been interrupted for nearly 24 hours by 125 striking mail truck drivers. Postmaster Morgan said there was now no delay in transportation between postoffices and railroad and steamship terminals.

Strikers and sympathizers today made several attacks on trucks. In Eighth avenue strikers set fire to a truck. An alarm was turned in, but the driver and a policeman extinguished the flames before the engines arrived.

Among those arrested during the day was Patrick Johnson, who said he was vice president of the local branch of the Chauffeurs' union, that is conducting the strike. Johnson and other prisoners were held by a United States commissioner on a charge of interfering with the transportation of mails. Officers of the postal transfer service company, which has the contract to carry mails, said tonight that the men's demands, including union recognition would not be granted, and that none of the strikers would be reinstated.

SNOW AND LOW TEMPERATURES PREVAIL IN KANSAS AND MISSOURI

In Extreme Southern Parts of States Little Snow Fell, Rain Taking Its Place.

Kansas City, Oct. 28.—Snow covers central and northern Kansas and western Missouri tonight and with temperatures ten degrees below freezing it will not rapidly disappear. Various places reported from two to five inches of snow during the day. In the extreme southern parts of the two states little snow fell but a heavy rain took its place.

In Kansas City a heavy snow fell late today and for a time the storm took on much the aspect of a blizzard. Street traffic was handicapped and many railroad and interurban trains were late. Similar conditions were reported at Topeka, St. Joseph, Leavenworth and other nearby cities.

With a temperature of twenty degrees predicted for this section tonight by the government weather observers, it is expected that the record for October cold, 22 degrees will be broken.

Blizzard Hits Northwest.
Duluth, Minn., Oct. 28.—The first real winter weather of the season struck the western portion of the Northwest and Canada and reached Duluth tonight. A northwest blizzard, heavy snow and low temperatures prevailed here.

All of Saskatchewan and many portions of the northwest were in the grip of the cold wave. Q'Appelle reported two below zero and zero was reported at two other Saskatchewan. Snow is falling over a wide area.

Strong For Special Trains.
Chicago, Oct. 28.—Charles G. Gates lived in Chicago for many years and was one of the early promoters of automobile contests. During the last 19 years he had been in Chicago only at intervals, usually passing through in special trains for which he developed a predilection so strong that he seldom traveled in regular cars.

He was greatly devoted to his mother and only a few weeks ago he spent $1,000 extra for a special train in order to see her through Chicago. Mr. Gates was ready to start from Kansas City for his home in Minneapolis. After he had arranged for a special train to Minneapolis at a cost of $400, his mother said she would like to have him accompany her to Chicago, whence she planned to proceed to New York City. The son at once changed his plans and paid $1,400 for a special from Kansas City to Minneapolis by way of Chicago.

Mr. Gates had considerable aversion to "society" and it was on this account, he said, that his first wife, who was Miss Mary W. Martin of St. Louis, divorced him in 1911. His marriage with Miss Hopwood took place later at Uniontown, Pa.

Close All Saloons.
Late this afternoon a force of six militiamen from the Trinidad company reached the three camps in this territory and by virtue of martial government closed every saloon in the three camps. No attempt was made to disarm the guards who tonight are using the utmost vigilance to protect the camps against repetition of this morning's fight.

Many houses in the canon were penetrated by bullets, showing the fierceness of the shooting. Strikers late today could be seen still in the hills within rifle shot of the three camps and all who were observed were heavily armed.

CHARLES G. GATES DIES IN WYOMING

SON OF LATE JOHN W. GATES SUC- CUMBS TO STROKE OF APOPLEXY

Had Gone West on Advice of His Physicians Who Accompanied Him, Believing the Change in Climate and Altitude Would Improve His Health—Hunting Trip Appears To Weaken His Condition.

CODY, Wyo., Oct. 28.—Charles G. Gates, son of the late John W. Gates, died in his private car here at two o'clock this afternoon of a stroke of apoplexy. His body will be sent east by way of Billings, Mont. Mr. Gates came west about a month ago on advice of physicians who accompanied him, believing his health would improve with a change of climate and altitude. There was some improvement after his arrival here but he was considered a very sick man.

Together with his physicians and friends, he was taken to a mountain resort and a hunting trip was planned. It was successful from the sportsman's viewpoint but the exertion seemed to leave Mr. Gates weak and he returned to Cody to recuperate before his trip east.

Last night a change for the worse occurred and complications caused apprehension. Efforts to relieve Mr. Gates' sluggish heart were of no avail and he gradually weakened and failed to respond to stimulants. Mr. Gates had made many friends here and a few days before his death he had ascertained the indebtedness of the various churches of Cody. In some instances he wiped out the indebtedness, in others he made substantial contributions.

He purchased clothing for the poor of the city and in other ways aided them.

Mr. Gates left the latter part of August for a hunting trip in Wyoming. L. S. Allen, personal representative for Mr. Gates in Minneapolis said tonight that he had advised from Mr. Gates yesterday saying he had returned from his hunting trip and would leave for home at once. Mr. Allen says that when he left Mr. Gates in the west he had apparently gained greatly in health and had believed that he was recovering.

When Mr. Gates left for west, Mrs. Gates went to New York where she was staying with her husband's mother, Mrs. John W. Gates.

Presents Guide With $10,000.
On his return from his hunting trip, Mr. Gates spent more than $7,000 buying fur coats for friends. He gave his chauffeur $1,000 and presented Ned Frost, his guide on the trip $10,000 in currency.

A few hours before his death Mr. Gates said he had just made a big turn on the Chicago board of trade and that he expected to spend $70,000 before leaving Cody.

Mr. Gates died while his special car was being coupled to a Burlington train. The car was detached and the body was removed to a hotel.

His Home in Minneapolis.
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 28.—Charles G. Gates, who died today at Cody, Wyo., has made his home in Minneapolis for about a year and half. Two years ago he was married to Miss Florence Hopwood, daughter of Frank P. Hopwood of this city. Late in 1912 he began the erection of a $1,000,000 residence which is not yet completed.

WILSON ARRIVES IN WASHINGTON

President Returns to Capital from Mobile, Ala., and Motors at Once to White House

SAYS NOTHING ABOUT MEXICO

Refuses to Discuss Next Step to Be Taken by the U. S. Until He Confers With Other Administration Officials

GREATLY ENJOYS HIS MOBILE TRIP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—President Wilson returned to the capital tonight at 10:30 o'clock from Mobile, Ala., and motored immediately to the white house. He had nothing to say about Mexico.

On account of the many phases of the situation that had arisen in his absence the president was unwilling to say what would be the next step taken by the United States until he had conferred with other administration officials. When he was asked if the United States would announce a new course of action to bring peace to Mexico or allow the previous repudiation of last Sunday's election to stand as his fixed policy, he said, "I am not discussing Mexico at present with anybody, or making any comments on the situation there."

The president told his friends that he rarely had enjoyed a trip so much as he did his journey to and from Mobile. He got such a spontaneous welcome everywhere enroute that he had a pair of weary hands tonight which had been pressed by thousands during the day as his train sped through North Carolina and Virginia. Once the president got off, stretched his legs and mounted the engine to see Engineer N. S. Hunter proudly exhibit his locomotive with its gilded American Eagle on its headlight.

"Climb down backwards," admonished Engineer Hunter.

Crowds Cheer Executive.
"I hate to back out of anything," laughed the president as he descended. The president had given orders not to have the train make any unnecessary stops but it ran slowly through scores of villages, where big crowds cheered as they got a glimpse of the executive. There was one exception to the rule. The president requested a stop at Culpepper, Va., the home of Dr. Carey T. Grayson, U. S. N., the president's physician and constant companion. Dr. Grayson said a through train had not stopped there in five years.

"The whole town will be there," he told the president enthusiastically as he noted that 2,201 persons were found there in the last census.

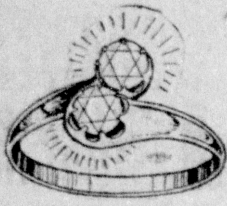

When the train did stop at Culpepper there was only one man at the station and it was very dark. "Do you know anyone in the crowd?" asked the president solemnly.

"Oh yes," replied the doctor, somewhat crestfallen, "that's Cooney Hainsborough—but he meets all trains anyhow."

He insisted there surely would have been a crowd if it was known the train would stop.

At Charlottesville, Va., a big crowd of University of Virginia students gave the president a college yell and invited him to attend their football game next Saturday.

MR. MUNGER GIVES BRILLIANT PIANO RECITAL PROGRAM

Presented Numbers With Musically Excellence Which Delighted Large Audience at Northminster Church.

At Northminster church Tuesday evening Mr. Edmund Munger played a piano recital which was artistic to a high degree. The enthusiasm of his large and appreciative audience spoke directly of the impression he made by his beautiful playing. If comparison can be made, Mr. Munger, perhaps raised the high standard of musical excellence fixed by himself upon the former occasions of his appearance before the Jacksonville public.

Certainly last evening he played with a charm and power that amounted almost to fascination. His beautiful singing tone which can serve to build up masses of brilliancy or to outline delicate tracteries and then veil either effect in dim shadows and mist, is harnessed by an accuracy of rhythm and crispness that still yields gracefully to the subtle rule of mood.

The program itself was a fascinating one of which the various numbers though susceptible to logical grouping, stood out individually, each one sustaining its mood and message and remaining faithful to the symmetry of the whole.

The program opened with the Schumann Fantasia in C major, Op. 17. To say that Mr. Munger interpreted Schumann is to have made mention already of the charm and poetry and dreamy qualities of the Fantasia which pulsates also with a substantial directness and turbulent energy so characteristic of Schumann's compositions.

The Chopin group is always valuable to the play of pianistic powers. The C minor Etude, sometimes called the revolutionary, with all its vehemence of martial spirit, surrenders but its melancholy to the Etude in F minor, the study presenting otherwise a very different mood.

Melancholy is again the note in the Nocturne in C sharp minor, this time combined with a plaintive melody which gives way occasionally to rebellion and struggle, but resolves at last into the calm of reconciliation.

One must note the expression of satisfaction and delight which seemed to ripple over the audience as the opening measures of the Chopin Waltz in A flat major were recognized. The gaiety and dash with which Mr. Munger played this favorite waltz won ringing applause from the audience.

The Prelude in A minor of Debussy introduced the last group on the program and, without the aid of a title, conjured up in the mind of each listener his own impression of what the composer seeks to depict.

"It reminds me of places where I have never been," this comment on the second of the Debussy numbers suggests the ideal beauty of this exquisite composition. The picturesque title, Shadows in the Water (Reflets dans l'eau) is hardly a necessary guide to the listener, so easily does the imagination respond to the delicate imagery and coloring of the piece.

The more tangible beauty of the Study in F major of Rubinstein leads logically to the substantial effectiveness of Kullak's Octavo Study in E major which formed a striking close to this very interesting and delightful program.

Mr. Munger responded to two encores, playing Schumann's Warum und En Route by Godard.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE TO MEET WESLEYAN

HARD BATTLE EXPECTED ON ILLINOIS FIELD.

Bloomington Bunch Are a Ready Set of Players and Contest Promises to be Exciting From Start to Finish—Regime of Minor College Champions.

Coach Harmon is putting his men through a stiff practice in anticipation of the game Saturday here against Wesleyan university. Wesleyan has a strong team this year, and last Saturday defeated the strong team from Williams & Vashit, by a score of 3 to 0. Williams & Vashit was the championship team of the minor colleges of Illinois. Coach Harmon and his men realize that if they are going to make any kind of a showing against Muhli's men they will have to get down and dirty. Up to date it will be the hardest game of the season. The field was in a bad condition yesterday so that a good work out was not possible for the I. C. men. A hole in the line-up will have to be filled on account of the absence of Karch, who played end. Karch underwent an operation for appendicitis and will not be able to play any more this season. Illinois' showing against Bradley revealed some weak spots in the line-up. Bradley's team was stronger than anticipated and the contest was a fierce one.

The Bloomington Bulletin in speaking of the coming game says: "Another hard tussle is in store for Coach Muhli's eleven when they meet Illinois college at Jacksonville this week. Illinois college has a speedy team this year, in fact, the strongest in eight years at the Jacksonville school and Muhli's men will have to play the very best football to get away with the game. Illinois has won her last two games, trimming Normal on her own stamping ground 22 to 7 and beating Bradley 14 to 10 last Saturday. Frisbee, tackle; Wilson, halfback; Stewart, quarter, and Capt. Alford at fullback are all high class performers and are men that Butler's tribe will have to watch closely. Coach Muhli is very well satisfied with his team as it now stands and there is not likely to be any changes in the line-up. Callahan's showing Saturday makes him the favorite for right half, although several of the other candidates are pushing him hard. Ralph Canfield, veteran halfback, is still bothered with a lame shoulder and may not meet in the game for a week or ten days.

Championship Team.
Already the dope is going the round as to the possible candidates for football champion of the minor colleges of Illinois. A writer in the Decatur Review picks Millikin U. and Wesleyan as the two schools who will fight it out for the state championship. The dope is figured that Wesleyan defeated Williams & Vashit by a score of 3 to 0 and Millikin defeated Normal university 43 to 9, after having won from Shurtliff by a score of 14 to 3. Millikin and Wesleyan will meet in Decatur Nov. 15. In speaking of Illinois chances the article says: "Illinois college of Jacksonville is not out of the reckoning, however, as it has won three conference games with no defeats. Comparative scores, however, point to Millikin or Wesleyan as showing superior playing so far. Illinois college defeated Normal university 22 to 7, against Millikin's 48 to 0. Illinois college defeated Bradley 14 to 10 while Bradley beat Normal 18 to 7 and Illinois defeated Normal 22 to 7." Charleston State Normal was put decisively out of the running when Wesleyan defeated it 56 to 6. A rejuvenation of the team since has worked wonders, defeating Shurtliff by 37 to 17. Lombard is rather an unknown quantity so far. She defeated Carthage 59 to 0 and tied Iowa Wesleyan. The dope for the standing of the clubs at present is:

Millikin and Wesleyan.
Williams & Vashit.
Illinois college.
Bradley Polytechnic.
Charleston Normal.
Lincoln college.
Shurtliff college.
Lombard.
Hedding.
Eureka.
Carthage.

Illinois' Schedule.

The remainder of Illinois' schedule follows:
Nov. 1—Wesleyan at Jacksonville.
Nov. 8—Millikin at Jacksonville.
Nov. 15—Lombard at Jacksonville.
Nov. 22—Shurtliff at Alton.
Nov. 27—Williams & Vashit at Alton.

A SLEEPING BEAUTY.

A great commotion was caused yesterday by the sleeping, hypnotized beauty in the front window of the store of Johnson, Hackett & Guthrie. A leading merchant informed his whole force of the fact and soon a whole bevy of young ladies trooped down to the place to see the sight and they told a number of friends also.

BRIDGE AT NICHOLS PARK.

Work has been started on the concrete abutments and approaches at the bridge in Nichols park. The water is now so low that the workmen can proceed all right and it is expected to have it pushed right along to completion.

WETS AND DRY WILL HOLD DEBATE AT OPERA HOUSE THURSDAY NIGHT

Challenge Issued by Protective Association Is Met by Local Option Committee—C. A. Windle and Senator Cleary Will Be the Speakers.

The Jacksonville Business Men's Protective association by W. A. Gardner, Tuesday morning issued a challenge to the local option forces to have some representative of the cause meet in joint debate with Hon. C. A. Windle at the Grand Opera house Thursday night. The executive committee of the local option forces decided to accept the challenge and secured as their representative Senator M. H. Cleary.

Mr. Windle is the editor of the Iconoclast, a paper which espouses the cause of the saloon and is said to be a speaker of unusual ability. His paper is edited in a style all his own and he swings a pen which is virile and strong.

Senator Cleary was the leader of the "dry" forces in the senate at the last session of the legislature, and in that capacity was trusted by the temperance members of all parties. He is a Democrat, and his fearless championship of the anti-saloon cause will disprove the statement that the Anti-Saloon league is a Republican show.

Senator Cleary is a devout member of the Catholic church. He has endeavored himself to every Modern Woodman in the state as he was chairman of the "insurgent" committee and led the fight successfully against the increase in rates, securing the decision from Judge Shirley decree such rates null and void.

RAILROAD NOTES.

George H. Vickers, traveling passenger agent of the San Pedro line, was calling on local railroad men yesterday.

Dwight Kastrop, first trick operator and ticket seller at the Burlington office has gone on a thirty days' vacation. He will take in St. Paul, Minneapolis, Minnesota and other northern points. At St. Paul he expects to meet Elson Kitter, formerly of this place.

Second trick operator, Taylor Agnew, is taking the place of Dwight Kastrop while the latter is enjoying his vacation.

H. E. Taylor is acting as second trick operator during the absence of Dwight Kastrop.

Roy Griffith, freight conductor on the Burlington, has gone to Griggsville for a visit.

A Burlington coal train pulled a drawbar just south of the city, derailing a car and hindering traffic a while. When one observes the tremendous trains hauled over that road it is a wonder that more drawbars are not pulled out.

Friday will be a busy day among Wabash men as the high up officials of the road are to be here on their private train on the annual tour of inspection. Every one in buildings and yards will be on their best behavior and try to have his department looking the best.

At the Car Shops.

The new carpenters have been put to work in the car shop. No. 45 has been put in shape and sent to Havana to serve as switch engine.

Work progresses apace on No. 68, the new engine that is being constructed in the shops. Her cylinders are now in place, lots of the stays and braces are on and many other evidences of advancement are noticeable. It is a matter of much pride among the workmen and they are determined to make as good a showing as possible and the aim is to have the cost come within the estimate in which case it is expected the job will be several times duplicated.

C. S. Branch, the superintendent of motive power, dropped in unexpectedly yesterday and went over the shops quite thoroughly. He seemed well pleased with the way things were going and took especial pains to look at the new 68 which is being constructed. Her drive wheels and axles are already at the door ready to be put under her and in due time it is expected she will roll out of the shop in fine shape.

Henry Hackett, night foreman at the boiler shop, has left on absence permit to go to San Francisco to see a sick brother.

THE JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL
Established 1843
Published by
JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL CO.

The sudden death of Charles G. Gates brings to mind a recent newspaper cartoon which depicted a penniless, but sturdy youth reading this sign on a millionaire's home: "Wanted to exchange my home and millions for good health and a sound body."

Charles Gates was the "son of his father" in more ways than one. He inherited not only his father's millions but also the elder Gates' spectacular spending qualities and many of the stories told of his prodigality. He was whimsical in his generosity and made many bountiful gifts on the spur of the moment but he has been accounted one of the most likeable of American millionaires. So the country at large will regret that millions were powerless when death knocked at the door for dashing, liberal, generous-hearted Charles Gates.

RECALL WILLIAM BROWN'S ESTIMATE OF SALOONS.

Those of our readers who were present at the mass meeting held in the opera house during the first anti-saloon campaign will recall the words of our distinguished fellow citizen the late Hon. William Brown:

"The licensed saloon is an insidious foe, under the guise of a place of rest and refreshment—it lays the trap of allurements that starts its victim on the road to ruin. Behind the mahogany screen before the marble bar with its polished mirrors and cut glass, to the pleasing strains of music the unfortunate boy or girl is allured and ensnared into a trap that may be the beginning of their downfall and degradation. No longer do these places operate under the name of a saloon. The Buffet, The Home, The Garden, etc., are the high-sounding terms that designate these so-called properly conducted places. My fellow citizen what is the history of the saloon business in Jacksonville? It has been the so-called respectable places that furnish the boys and girls their first lessons in drinking. If their first visits had been to places on the back streets devoid of their decoration and gaudy trappings they would have been shocked and alarmed by the appearance of the place and the language and conduct of its unfortunate habitués and patrons. Those of us who have lived to our declining years know something of the pitfalls that are before the youth of our country and I am thankful that I have lived to see the day when the intelligence of my country rises and with their sovereign right takes this monster by the throat and chokes the life out of it."

SOME NOTABLE SAYINGS.

A Halloway member of Trinity church contributed the following: "I am a single man, turned 70, and as free from melancholy as a man need be. Wine I drink once, being in that particular of the persuasion of Jonathan, the son of Rachel, 'Jeremy Bentham.' 'Ninety per cent of the crime in the army is through drink.'—Lord Wolseley. 'The ravages of drink are greater than pestilence, war and famine combined.'—W. E. Gladstone. 'Drink is the cure of the country.'—Mr. Chamberlain. 'I never suffer ardent spirit in my house, thinking them evil spirits.'—Sir Astley Cooper.

Hotel for Cats.

A cat-lover, Walter Scott, has started a free hotel for cats at Cheshire, Connecticut. Himself an innkeeper, he has fitted up a large room in the basement of his hostelry, and there homeless cats can take refuge and get three square meals a day. There are now over 100 cats in the free hotel. Mr. Scott is so satisfied with his experiment that he is taking steps to establish a chain of hotels for cats.

PREPARE TO OBSERVE NEW TRAFFIC ORDINANCE

Lighted Guide Posts Being Erected on Square--Street Car Men Report Violations--Other Provisions

Island lights, two white and one red on iron posts are being placed on the square at its intersection with State and Main streets as traffic guides enabling automobilists and other drivers to observe the provisions of the new traffic ordinance. The bases were put in Tuesday and policemen were stationed in front of them to accustom drivers to keep to the right and to observe the ordinance in making turns. In sections 12 and 13 it is required that "a vehicle in turning into another street to the right shall turn the corner as near to the right hand curb as practicable," and "in turning into another street to the left shall circle around the center of the street intersection and enter the street at the right hand side."

The street car men have been requested by Supt. Miser at the suggestion of Chief of Police Davis to report violations of section 5 of the ordinance requiring drivers to stop when near a stationary street car and Chief Davis has assured the co-operation of the police department in giving attention to such violations. This section reads: "The driver of a vehicle overtaking a street car which has stopped to take on or discharge passengers shall stop his vehicle ten feet from such car, so as not to interfere with or injure passengers who may board or alight from said car."

Of interest to autoists also is the provision regarding mufflers and signals. All motor vehicles must have a muffler in "proper, efficient working condition," and it is unlawful to operate an automobile or motorcycle with the muffler cut out or not in use. All motor vehicle drivers must have horns or other signals, but must not use "sirens" or use a signal bell or horn except as a warning of danger.

Waiting vehicles must stand parallel and not backed up to the curb, except around Central park where autos and other vehicles must stand backed up to the curb. Drivers must heed any directions or orders of the police as to starting, stopping or turning and all street traffic shall be under the control of the commissioner of public health and safety. The penalty for violations of the ordinance is a fine of "not less than $5 nor more than $100 for each and every offense."

COLORED MAN IS TO FACE SIXTH TRIAL

Ervin Pope, Charged With Murder of Rich Planter, Still Protests His Innocence.

Anniston, Ala., Oct. 28.—Preparations are rapidly being completed here for the sixth trial on the charge of murder of Ervin Pope, a colored man who is charged with having killed J. B. McClurkin, a prominent planter of Oxford, near Anniston, in April, 1909. Pope was tried five times and every time he was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged, yet, even the sight of the gallows erected for his execution in the rear of the county jail, could not shake the fearless confidence of the prisoner that he would not be hanged and that his innocence would be proven to the end. From the very beginning Pope has asserted his innocence and has adhered to this assertion in the face of the most incriminating circumstantial evidence. Technical flaws in the rulings of the court enabled Pope's lawyers to obtain a new trial in every case, but Pope, with the childlike simplicity of the typical southern negro ascribed his success in escaping the gallows not to his lawyer's ability and to errors of the court but to the rabbit's foot he carries in his pocket. It is the left hind foot of a rabbit "killed in a yet, even the sight of the gallows erected for his execution in the rear of the county jail, could not shake

The murder of McClurkin was extremely brutal. He heard a noise near his barn and when he rode toward the scene he was knocked from his horse with a heavy cudgel. His head was beaten to a pulp with a rock. Pope and another negro, John Body, were arrested soon after the murder. Pope was well-to-do, being a successful farmer. He always paid his debts and had a good reputation, but the evidence was against him, greatly strengthened by the allegations of Body, who turned witness against him.

Pope was convicted of the crime for the first time in May, 1909. Bloody shoes found in the barn in the rear of his house, overall buttons found in the ashes around a washtub, a defect in one of the hoofs of his mule and other circumstantial evidence were introduced against him, but the most telling feature of the trial was the testimony of John Body, who stated that he heard the scuffle between Pope and McClurkin, who pleaded for mercy in front of his house, where the killing occurred. Body said he lighted a candle and wrote down the words of the victim and the name of Pope, so that he might not forget them. When he was released from jail he fled the country and has not been heard from since.

Bitter feeling was manifested against Pope from the first, although previous to the murder he had been well liked. Special guards were kept at the jail during the hearing to protect the prisoner from mob violence. As soon as he was convicted he was hurried to Birmingham, where he was kept, except when taken to Anniston for trial. After the first trial Pope's lawyer obtained a new trial upon technical grounds. Pope was convicted again by the lower court in April 1910, and again a new trial was ordered. Pope was tried and convicted again in the spring of 1911, but the case was reversed and remanded on account of the admission of testimony which tended to exculpate John Body, who was believed by many to have been a party to the crime. Pope was tried for the fourth time in February of this year and again convicted, but the supreme court reversed the case and the prisoner was tried for the fifth time in July and again sentenced to death, but once more Pope's lawyer was successful in obtaining a new trial upon technical grounds. The coming trial will be the sixth and its outcome is awaited with considerable interest throughout the state.

GATHERING OF METHODIST MEN AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Great Convention Is Now In Progress—Held Under Call of Laymen's Missouri Movement.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 28.—Three thousand delegates, representing the clergy and lay members of the Methodist Church in the United States and in many other countries crowded Tomlinson Hall this morning when the National Convention of the Methodist Men, the first of its kind ever held, was called to order for its first session. The convention will continue until Friday and, according to the program arranged there will be three sessions daily. The attendance is thoroughly representative and includes five hundred general officers of the Church, including bishops, secretaries, educators and district superintendents; one thousand pastors and fifteen hundred laymen, including officers and leaders in local churches.

The convention is held under the call of the laymen's missionary movement of the Methodist Episcopal Church, with the transmission on finance and other official bodies of the church in active and hearty co-operation. All the missionary and benevolent boards of the church are united in the convention to which the problem of its missionary task will be presented in all its phases. Men of national and international reputation, representing every phase of church life and service, will be heard, not only from the Methodist communion, but some of the strongest lay and clerical representatives of other Christian bodies will give their assistance.

The day sessions will be largely devoted to conferences of a practical character in the furtherance of the purpose for which the convention was called. The purpose is: To increase missionary intelligence and to deepen spiritual life; to present the definite responsibility of Methodism both at home and abroad in relation to other denominations and Christian agencies; to adopt a practicable denomination program and policy of advance; to place more definitely before the church the new financial plan as adopted by the general conference for the church as a whole and for the local church; to emphasize the principles and practice of Christian stewardship as adopted by the general conference; and to discover and enlist more men for missionary and evangelistic service.

BRONCHITIS CONQUERED

Royersford, Pa., Man Tells How.

At this season of the year, with such sudden changes it is so easy to take cold, and almost before one is aware there is inflammation in the bronchial tubes—a hard cough and unless checked in this chronic pulmonary troubles may result.

Townsend Young of Royersford, Pa., says: "A severe bronchial trouble contracted caused me much difficulty about breathing. My chest felt clogged up and there was considerable soreness. I tried different remedies without help; but I am glad to say that Vinol cured my bronchial trouble which had lasted for three months. My breathing is all right and the soreness entirely gone from my chest."

B. C. 3500

The first prescription was written on Egyptian stone 3500 B. C., and is now in the Metropolitan Museum, N. Y. City. The first prescription dispensed from our files was put up by Robert Hocken-hull, senior, in 1842, and can be seen in our east side store window, together with others of same and subsequent years, down to the present time; nearly 50,000 of them in all.

These 50,000 prescriptions represent the accumulation of 71 years' continuous business, and when you take into consideration that in the last 25 or 30 years all the physicians have been dispensing practically all their medicines from their offices, it shows a record of work that we are justly proud of, both for our predecessors as well as ourselves.

This is the day and age of specializing in most all the arts and sciences. We specialize in that of dispensing physicians' prescriptions, and call ourselves the Prescription Specialists. Our intimate knowledge of drugs enables us to personally direct the compounding of them; the supervision of the filling of your prescriptions assures you that no error will be committed in the selection of the proper and purest drugs. Absolute excellence is our standard. We will not tolerate substitution. Our label is a guarantee of quality and we give most careful attention to every article which leaves our stores.

In order to carry out our Specialty we have opened (as you probably know), a prescription room in the Ayers Building, No. 201, for the exclusive compounding of physicians' prescriptions and family recipes. Hours 9:30 to 11:30 morning; 2 to 5 afternoon. We cordially invite you to call in and see our Prescription room. East and West Side Stores of Coover & Shreve can supply all your drug wants. We guarantee you perfect satisfaction, and are ready to promptly deliver any telephone order or call for prescription and return it to you after it is prepared.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

There is quite a tempest in the brew stage in the Western league. St. Joseph, Mo., Omaha and Des Moines have become weary of carrying Topeka, Wichita and Sioux City—all dead ones—from season to season at a financial loss. The board of directors are anxious to drop the franchises in these places and will seek an entrance in Peoria, Davenport and Minneapolis. In attempting this move they will upset the peace of the Three-Eyes and the Central as well as that of the American association and an open revolt is threatened. Baseball war in the east, baseball war in the west, baseball war all around us and not a horn of powder in sight!

Baltimore business men have secured a franchise from the Federal league, a stock company has been incorporated, option on grounds centrally located secured and everything has been put in shipshape to open war upon the International league in the Oriole domain.

With one or two more shifts in the lineup and the globe-circling White Sox will resemble in name only the team which was fifth in the American league pennant race. Old Hos' Frank Isbell, manager of the Des Moines team, is the latest adjunct to the travelers and will complete the circuit at first base instead of Hal Chase, who quits when the party reaches the coast.

"Dirty Football" is the title of a broadside issued by George Huff, director of athletics at the University of Illinois. This popular developer of athletic stars predicts that football will soon be placed on trial for its life unless certain coaches and officials act immediately and cut out the dirty and uncalled for rough work now characteristic of their teams. The lessons of a few years ago appear to have been entirely forgotten in this year of 1913, and during the past three weeks more dirty football has been turned loose than in all of the years (put together) that the game, in its present shape, has been in existence. And the whole fault does not appear to "lie in" the players. The trouble is directly chargeable to the ignorance and the incompetency of the coaches. This condition is lamentably more true in the middle-west than in any other section of the country.

Leach Cross has developed a blister, a boil or some other sort of an eruption in the muscles over his ribs and has had his go with champion Ritchie scheduled for tonight in New York set back until Nov. 10.

The best "Kid" Williams could do on Saturday night at Pittsburgh was to earn a draw with Patsy Brannigan in six rounds. And this is the same "Kid" Williams of Baltimore upon whom Tom McCarrey, before his Vernon arena "got in bad" with the California authorities a short time ago, attempted to crown the bantam champion of the world.

The national coursing meet ended at Wymore, Neb., Sunday and was the most successful in the history of the organization. Nebraska dogs were the champions, sweeping the card in the future and all-stage stakes finals. The dog, Carter Harrison, named for the Windy City's mayor, was an also-ran in the latter two big events. Carter Harrison always "run nowhere" outside of the village with the "I Will" slogan.

Since hitting the trail in Iowa, Kansas and Missouri the White Sox-Giants combination has been reaping a harvest of the easy coin. Blue Rapids, in Kansas, is a hamlet of about 1,200 population, yet the turnstiles registered 3,864 paid admissions, the natives from three counties making the journey to witness the game. At St. Joseph and Kansas City standing room was at a premium. At nearly all the stops Callahan is a drawing card with his monologue.

Stagg's defeat of the Boiler-makers on Saturday has had a tendency to make the University of Chicago rather cocky and he is now predicting the conference championship for his team. It will be well for his followers to await the result of his tussle with Dr. Williams and the latter's band of Gophers from the wilds of Minneapolis.

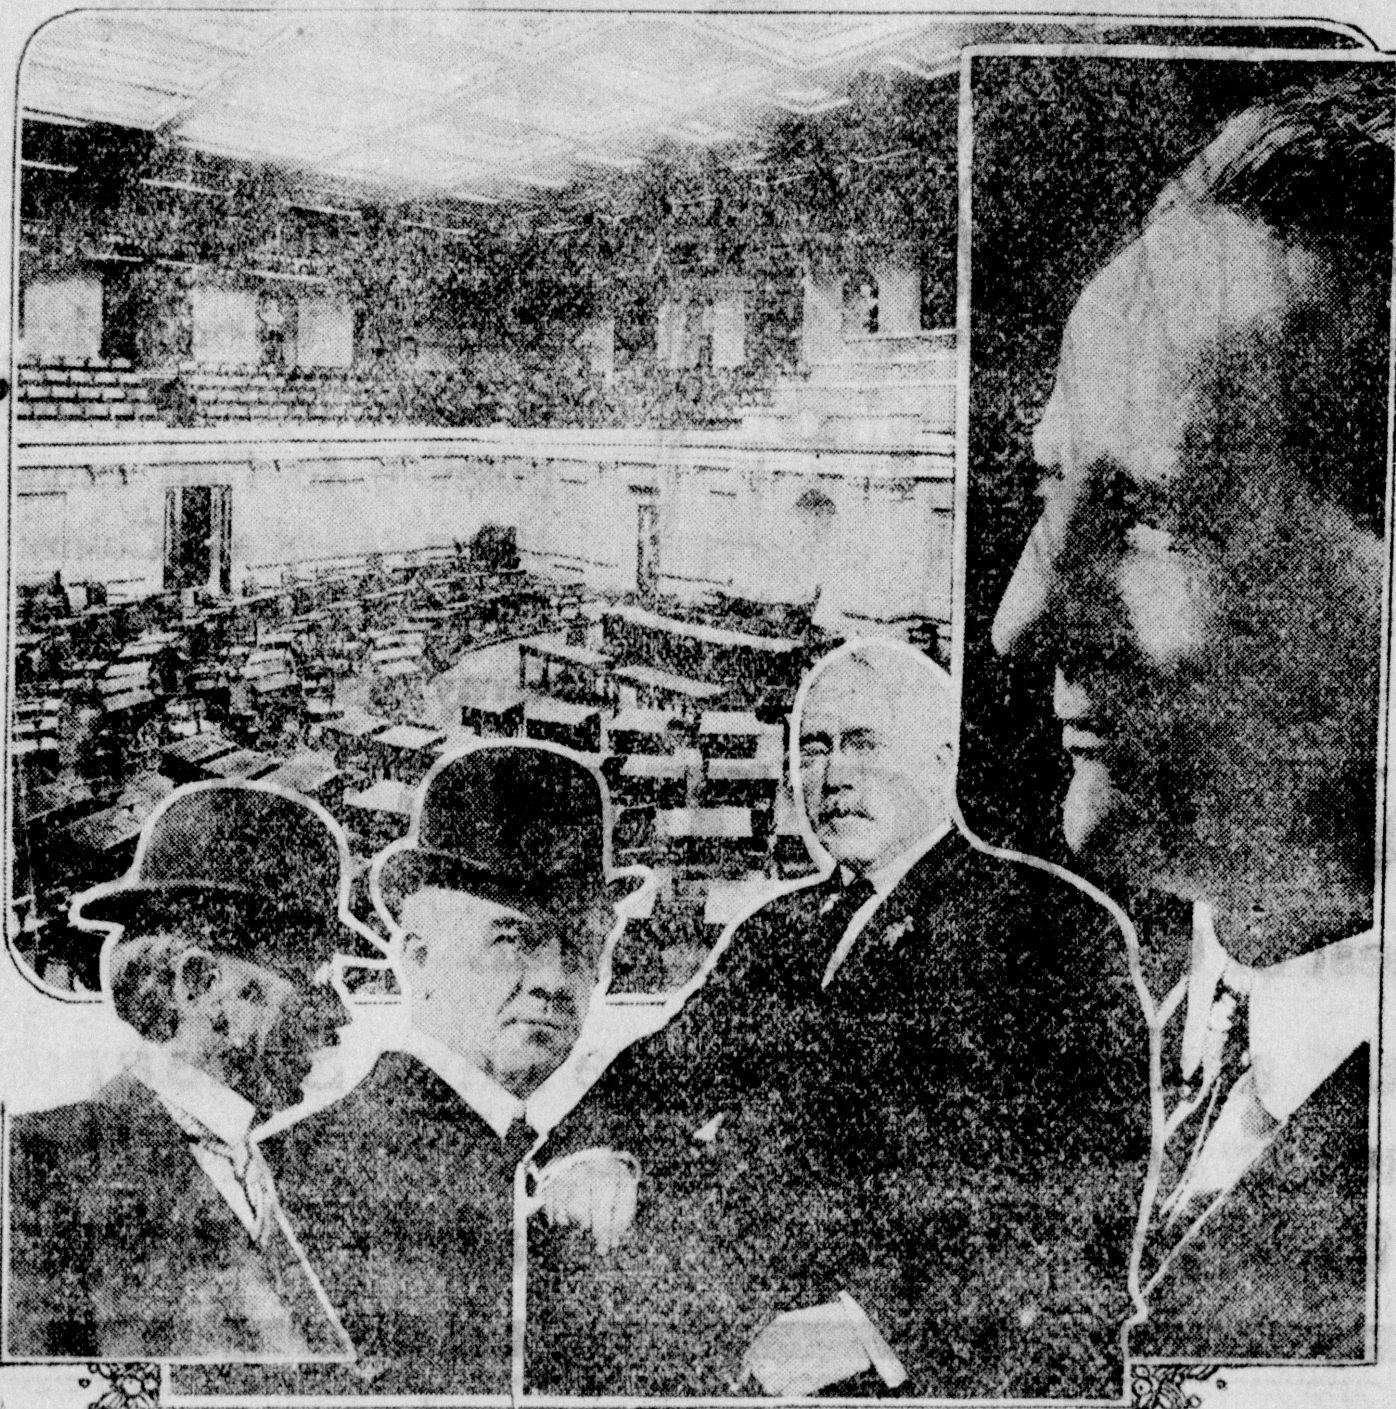

Eddie McGorty's demand of a guaranty of $1,750 to meet Jack Dillon over the ten round route at Milwaukee on Nov. 10 has been refused by the promoters of the Queensberry Athletic club of Milwaukee and the match cancelled. The Oshkosh middleweight is one of those class referred to in this column a few days ago who will be compelled before the winter is very far advanced to accept reasonable purses for boxing engagements or else return to his former occupation of hoisting freight into the holds of sea-going tramp freighters.

In Saturday's gridiron battles there were twenty-two "accidents." A Michigan coroner impelled a jury to pass judgment in one case, and the prospects are that several other coroners will do likewise as the outcome of some of the dirty tactics.

Medical directors of the Wisconsin university football team at the training camp have announced that five members of the squad were so badly injured in the tussle with the Michigan Aggies on Saturday that they will not be able to participate in any of the games for several weeks to come. This is important to last year's champions of the conference, especially so upon the eve of one of the toughest battles of the year—the struggle with the Gophers next Saturday.

Important Figures In Currency Reform Proceedings And Senate Chamber, Where Final Debates Occur.

Photos by American Press Association.

The eyes of the entire nation are directed on the congress developments in regard to the new currency bill, which remodels the national banking and financial system. Carter Glass, the Virginia congressman, represents the Wilson administration in the proceedings. Senators Bristow and Hitchcock are the chief opponents of the original Glass-Owen bill and have been supporting the plan of Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York. The Vanderlip proposition is for the creation of a single federal reserve bank to be controlled by a federal reserve board of seven members appointed by the president and with government control of the federal reserve system from top to bottom. In the illustration the men grouped around the senate chamber, where the final currency debates occur, are as follows: Left to right, Senator Bristow, Senator Hitchcock, Frank A. conspirators succeed in tying the can to Tom Lynch, president of the National league. It is rumored that the Connecticut Irish-Yankee will take hold of the Federal league as president. In that event a war will be started that would shake the moss-eaten National and its baby adjunct, the American leagues off their foundations. The old Brotherhood fight, in comparison, was only a side show to the one now swiftly developing.

Stand Collapses Killing One. Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 28.—Chester Taylor, private of Company I, Ninth United States Infantry, was killed and fifty persons were injured, several seriously when a crowded stand collapsed at the baseball grounds here today just before play started in the game between the Chicago American and New York National League teams. George Thatcher of Boston was among the more seriously hurt.

It is estimated that 500 persons were in the stand when the supports gave away, tumbling the occupants to the ground. A company of soldiers was peering under the structure when it collapsed but with the exception of Taylor all the soldiers escaped injury.

What Astonished Canadian. A Canadian paying his first visit to London was asked what he thought of it. "Well," he replied, "it is astonishing the number of people who have got a shine on their boots in the morning." He then explained that over on the other side landladies never brush boots, with the result that people of both sexes get into a habit of patronizing "shoe shine parlors" when they want their boots cleaned.

How About Macame. "Under the lux American system of bringing up girls," says a Paris journal, "the American young man rarely wins the first kiss from the girl who is to be his bride." Maybe, but by Heck! that is not so bad as the Gallic discomfort of never knowing who has won the last kiss from the "madame."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Active Service.

A rather remarkable instance of a woman's long, unbroken record comes from France, where Mme. Laforest, the oldest woman postal official, has just retired after 49 years of service without once having been absent from her post, except during the recognized holidays. Entering the postal service in 1865 at the age of sixteen, she attained her sixty-fifth year last month, when, very much against her will, she was placed on the superannuation list and forced to retire from active service.

Worth of Knowledge.

There must be a best way to build a house and a best way to train a child (because there is always a best and a worst in everything in all the world); and the immeasurable value of a well-trained child should be quite sufficient inducement to determine mothers and fathers to master the matter at any cost.

How Do the Classics Help Us?

The answer lies in one little word, art. The classics, more than any modern literature, teach us art, and art is the conscious purpose of man to make this world more beautiful. Philip Sidney says that the object of poetry is to make this too-much loved world more lovely; I should extend his definition a little further and say that the object of art is to make this world more lovely, more lovable, and more loved.—Henry D. Sedgwick, in the Atlantic.

His Duty.

Policeman (logically)—I seen my duty an' I done it. I says to the captain, "There's a guy runnin' a tough joint down the street." The captain says to me, "Go pull"—an' I starts to go—"his leg," says the captain. So I seen my duty an' I done it.—Judge.

Take Time to Think.

The merits of bones as indicators of fair or foul weather have been vouched for by the captain of an Italian steamer carrying a cargo of bones from the South American port of Buenos Ayres to New York. When the ship was sailing toward a storm recently the skipper stated the bones creaked and moaned, and when the weather was ahead they were silent again.

Doubtful of God's Power.

"Out of the mouth of babes" frequently come reproaching, regenerating hints of high spiritual value. Little girl whose father was very ill was asked if she had prayed for his recovery. "No," she replied, "I didn't think of it, but then I wondered it would be any use. I know God bigger 'n' wiser than people, but didn't know if he could kill germs."

Social Liberty and Prohibition

It was a peculiarity that in the time of Christ evil spirits or devils were allowed to enter into the bodies of men and hold possession of them. We read in the Bible that when these demons saw Jesus approaching them, recognizing Him and knowing the righteousness of His Power, they "cried out with a loud voice, saying, 'Let us alone,' etc. This was their plea for social liberty. They did not believe in prohibition. The devil has never been a believer in prohibition. The liberty which the demons of old claimed was, not liberty to do as they pleased with themselves, but the liberty to do as they pleased with other beings. This liberty Christ denied them. This liberty the home denies them today. This liberty the sober thinking manhood denies them. It is a similar liberty we deny to the open saloon and all dealers of intoxicating liquors.

WHAT IS LIBERTY?

In its widest sense it is freedom from all restraint. The savage has such a liberty.

In society liberty:

It is liberty regulated by law. It leaves a man perfectly free to do anything not inconsistent with the public good. Is the saloon for the public good? Society, of the people, has a right to claim from every man that he shall be the best, purest and strongest being, physically, mentally and spiritually, that he can become or make of himself. Society protects individual life, and whatever hinders a man from becoming the best, purest and strongest being, physically, mentally and spiritually society has a right to put away.

Liberty interposes its prohibition against whatever tends to destroy society.

The law demands that there shall be among men an accommodation to each other's needs and dangers and duties. No man has any right to pursue any calling or profession, nor to make any use of his property that shall put in jeopardy the safety, the property, the lives, the morals of others. If some one were to start a slaughter house on one of the corners of our public square to slaughter hogs and cattle, even our city council would immediately call a meeting and declare it a public danger and drive it from the limits of our city, and yet! and yet! men will vote for 25 or 30 slaughter

The Business Men's Protective Association

Where did this Business Men's Protective Association come from? Why do we need it in Jacksonville when we already have a Chamber of Commerce, an organization of the business men of our city? Who is taking care of this newly born child of the so called business men of our city? Who are those who are nursing it so tenderly and lovingly? The men who are in favor of the return of the saloon to this city. Seventy-five or more of the leading business men of Jacksonville will have nothing to do in taking care of this foreign born youngster. I am persuaded that its most interested nurses are the following:

1. The leading nurse is the Wine and Liquor Dealers Association of America, organized and represented in every State in the Union. Look them over, as they pass. Note this determined features, made sharp and hard by years of organized and determined fight. What is the character of these men? Do they care aught for your American Sabbath, the church for your boy or girl, or the purity of the American ballot? Is there any purchasable vote they will not buy, or dangerous method they will not use to carry their point.

2. The second set of nurses of this child of unknown parentage are the Brewers and Distillers of America—a tremendous body of nurses. Study their features and character. What are they for American moral or political purity? Is there any voter they would not corrupt, or legislator they would not corrupt if they could?

3. The third set of nurses are the Whole Sale Liquor Dealers, Saloon-keepers and Bartenders. Gather them from every corner saloon, back alley, low dive, from every town and city in America. Have you ever stopped to count their number, or weight their influence and all working in perfect harmony with the nurses already mentioned in taking care of the infant Protective Association hoping to nurse it into a Moses to lead them into the "promised land" or the open saloon in Jacksonville.

4. The fourth set of nurses are the Professional Gamblers. See them tendering their service to take care of the child, gathering from rooms back of saloons, from secret halls and hidden haunts, from shadowed slums and lawless dives. A nice set of nurses.

5. The fifth set of nurses consists of Prize Fighters, Horse Racers and Reckless Sports. To get a good idea of this dangerous class of nurses, hear their vile oaths and see their reckless conduct, and to a man voting solid for the saloon. Taking care of the Child-Protective Association.

6. The sixth set of nurses are the Houses of Ill-Fame, and their patrons. These houses are themselves saloons, or blind pigs, dispensing liquors as part of their business. Take the midnight hour, and gather from every red light district and Hell's Half Acre the inmates of these houses and their "catfish" what are they for Sabbath, or church or boy or girl, or anything sacred. But this motley crowd of nurses are all solid for the saloon.

7. The seventh set of nurses is composed of Highway Robbers, Burglars and Counterfeiters. This class, though not so numerous, is even more dangerous than some of the others. These dangerous men a students of the saloon, kind spirits in all that is vicious about those haunts of sin. Voting for the saloon.

8. The eighth set of nurses are the Drunken Bums. I do not mean the periodical or the habitual drunkards for many of these would glad to see the traffic destroyed, mean by a bum the man who is utterly lost to all that is good, banrupt in character, the finished wre of the saloon.

9. The ninth set of nurses is composed of Corrupt Politicians. In every town and city there are sor wire-working, scheming politicians who will offer themselves to any man or proposition that will furnish food. All voting for the saloon.

10. The tenth set of nurses are the Anarchists. And who ever doubt for a moment that to a man that all vote for the saloon. Many of them are of the low class saloonkeepers. Look at the vicious, terminated features of each and he them curse the government, curse God and curse every American institution.

11. The eleventh set of nurses are the Toughs and Thugs. They may be idles, with or without mon sons of the rich and sons of the poor. It is the idle, reckless, god-for-nothing to be found in every community. They may be numbered the thousands, and all frequent the saloon and never fail to vote for it.

12. The twelfth class are the Grad Foreigners. There are a million and a quarter of them come to this country every year. They rapidly becoming citizens, and as they acquire the use of the ballot they vote solid for the saloon. The liquor traffickers getting its base on this dangerous element to alarming degree, so that it is not much the question whether we should allow one class of our citizens to destroy and pauperize another, their own gain, but the larger question of whether or not the government of this country shall be in the hands of the dangerous classes I have described.

13. The thirteenth set of nurse of the child of the saloon. It is class that does not belong to the class of maternity and ought to march with it. It is a class that has not stopped long enough to consider the institution. In this class are the business men, sober voters who are drawn into it through from their party allegiance business consideration. Shall Brewer, the Distiller and Wholes liquor dealers become our political and social bosses and use all their classes to carry on their plans, not let us oppose every thing that favor and defeat every man they up for office.

Girls! Beautify Your Hair! Make it Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant—Try the Moist Cloth.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cents bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all. (Adv.)

Sick Headache, Bad Breath, Sour Stomach, Mean Liver and Bowels Clogged—Clean Up Tonight.

Get a 10 cent box now.

Furred tongue, bad taste, indigestion, sallow skin and miserable headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, sour gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10 cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too. (Adv.)

Advice For Engaged Girls.

A certain amount of respect should be paid to the laws of social usage we call etiquette in the behavior of engaged couples.

An engaged girl usually devotes her time to entertaining her fiancé, and he is supposed to be entirely engrossed by her—her wants and wishes his law. This is, of course, as it should be. But there is a quality of delicacy that should exist between these two when others are present too often overlooked or seemingly forgotten. They should try to remember that after the wedding ceremony has made one of the twin friends are still to be considered and, indeed, are of the greatest importance in any scheme of life, for without friends one is poor indeed.

To ignore or to coolly pass by those with whom they are associated now or will be in the future is not proper, to say nothing of the lack of taste in forgetting or seeming to forget every one but each other. A girl should hold herself too dearly to permit her fiancé to forget that her parents, as well as other relatives and also her dear friends, must be considered. There are, presumably, long years to be passed together, and in the meantime surely it is worth while to show courtesy as far as possible to all.

The best (by which is meant the highest in point of social position, not necessarily the wealthiest) people are usually found to be the most considerate in all respects and in none more than in the attitude taken toward older members of the family as well as toward friends when an engagement is announced.

In time to come they will surely need counsel and advice, and it is a very small thing to do to refrain from showing too plainly the very natural desire to be alone. The extreme need not be adopted—that is, of the family being constantly present, as is the custom in countries remote from our own—yet in some ways this custom demands consideration. It is founded on safe principles and should not be ignored entirely. An engaged man should always express a desire to see the relatives of his fiancée, and she cannot do a more graceful and well-bred thing than to show a profound respect with a desire to please the family and friends of the man she has selected for wife or woo.

Repose in the Hands.

If you have not paid especial attention to your hands do so. Watch them carefully. See if you relax them when they are not in gesture or use. If you keep them tense as though you were holding on to something for dear life it only means you are keeping your nerves and muscles on an unnecessary strain.

Make a practice of stretching them out a little and then relaxing them, letting them fall into place with all the muscles loose. It is said that women waste nerve force to a great extent through their hands. They may be able to keep the feet still, but the hands are never quiet, never in repose, never loosened.

All this means that nervous energy, like Bill App's courage, oozes through her finger tips.

Possibly you are not conscious of how much perpetual motion there is in your own hands. Take a day off to watch them. If you find that you twist and turn them, run them through the hair and over the face, rap the chair or desk with them as you talk, do—do give them a rest. You will save yourself hours of energy and throw back all that force into your system to be used in more important things.

Put these rules up on your dressing table and imprint them in your mind before you go out among people.

Keep your hands away from head and face.

Do not pick up articles over the room and put them down again as you talk.

Learn to drop the hands in the lap, on the arm of the chair or at your side, and do not move them unless it is necessary.

Constant gesturing is foolish. Don't think it is expressive to talk with the hands unless you know how to do it.

A few gestures gracefully done are eloquent. Fidgeting the hand is stupid.

Bowing Good Form.

A woman should never bow to a man who has been introduced to her at some former occasion if she is ignorant of his name. If the acquaintance is so slight a recognition is rather forced and may lead to embarrassment.

The older of two women has the privilege of taking the initiative in subsequently recognizing an introduction. Women have this privilege with men. If a woman does not recognize a gentleman who has been introduced to her it is a tacit suggestion that she wishes no continuation of an acquaintance ship.

Men should always rise when any men or women are introduced in a room. In the street a man can show courtesy by removing his hat, and many keep their heads uncovered until parting from the group. A woman in bitter cold weather should request that this little act be waived. Women should certainly rise when an elderly person is introduced; otherwise they remain seated.

"OFFICER 666."

"Officer 666," which ran all last season at the Gaiety theater in New York city, will be seen at the Grand Friday, Oct. 31. This play is full of risible tricks and melodramatic moments that start a wave of shivery thrills chasing each other up and down one's spine only to end in an uncontrollable burst of laughter at the funny antics of this particular policeman who, in an unguarded moment is induced to part with his uniform for a brief period, while the borrower of it is endeavoring to rescue a lady fair from the web of complications that have been woven around her by the machinations of an internationally famous picture thief.

"Officer 666" is easily the best farce of the year. It has all the elements that go to make a successful play, least of which is a charming love interest wherein Cupid matches his wits against the stern arm of the law and wins a complete victory.

Miss Leta Megginson is spending a few days with her cousin, Miss Mable McCurley, south of Woodson.

Friends had a surprise party on Mrs. Amos Megginson Saturday evening, it being her birthday. They had quite a nice time. Light refreshments were served at a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reynolds gave the new students at the high school a party Friday evening. In all there were 195 present. Toasted marshmallows and cake and ice cream were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker of Jacksonville spent Sunday and Monday with their daughter, Mrs. Joseph McNeill, near Cross Roads.

Mr. and Mrs. William Paul and children were Sunday evening guests of Mrs. Paul's grandfather, J. J. Megginson.

Alfa Megginson had the misfortune to miss his train, which left him in Jacksonville. Nevertheless he didn't miss it Monday morning.

Mrs. Grace Biggs of Missouri is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Hitch.

R. F. D. No. 2, Sunfield, Mich. — "I was troubled with eczema. It began with a sore on the top of the scalp, broke out as a pimple and grew larger until it was a large red spot with a crust or scab over it. This became larger finally covering the entire scalp and spread to different parts of the body, the limbs and back and in the ears. These sores grew larger gradually until some were as large as a quarter of a dollar.

They would itch and if scratched they would bleed and smart. The clothing would irritate them at night when it was being removed causing them to itch and smart so I could not sleep. A watery fluid would run from them. My scalp became covered with a scale and when the hair was raised up it would raise this scale; the hair was coming out terribly. My scalp and body itched all the time.

"After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment with two applications we could notice a great difference. My way of using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment was to apply the Ointment to the sores and all over the scalp, then after I would wash the sores and scalp with the Soap. In a month's time I was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Bertha Underwood, Jan. 3, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c and Cuticura Ointment 5c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

TRADING ENDS WITH LOSSES FOR FAVORITES

STOCK MOVEMENT DRAGS ALONG UNEVENLY.

Opening is Irregular With Easter Tendency and Prices Move Upward Sharply—In the Afternoon the Market Trend is Reversed Apparently For no Particular Reason

(By Associated Press)
New York, Oct. 28.—Trading in stocks dragged along unevenly today, ending with losses for most of the speculative favorites. The opening was irregular with an easier tendency and the volume of trading was so light as to suggest an apathetic attitude. Prices moved upwards until the list ranged well over yesterday's close. In the afternoon this trend was reversed apparently for no particular reason.
Announcement that $2,500,000
South African gold had been procured in London for New York held first place in the day's news and for a time exerted a stimulating effect on stocks.
Fear was expressed that further bidding for gold by America might result in an advance in the Bank of England's rate of discount.
The supply of stocks late decline apparently came chiefly from bears.
This selling was accompanied by reports that the quarterly statement of the United States steel would be less favorable than had been predicted.
When the statement appeared after the close of the market it was seen that these pessimistic predictions had some justification, for the earnings of $38,450,000 were somewhat smaller than recent estimates. Another bearish influence was publication of several unfavorable railroad reports for September. Union Pacific showed a decrease in net of $320,000 and South Southern of $105,000.

PROBATE OFFICER FREED FROM CHARGES BROUGHT BY WOMAN

Mrs. Rose Allen Formerly of Jacksonville Failed to Substantiate Case Against Hugh Fullerton—Custody of Children Involved.

Hugh Fullerton, chief probate officer of the Juvenile Court of St. Louis was recently acquitted of impeachment charges brought against him by Mrs. Rose Allen of 2723 Washington avenue. Mrs. Allen was formerly Miss Rose Stringham of this city.

Mrs. Allen charged that she had been deprived of her two children through the recommendations of Fullerton acting in his capacity as probate officer and that she had been put to great trouble and expense in regaining possession of them.

The children, Etta and Lucille Allen, 12 and 8 years old, respectively, were awarded by the Juvenile Court to William Abar Dec. 2, 1911. Abar and his life lived in a houseboat at the foot of Kraus street. Subsequently Abar obtained adoption papers for them in the Probate Court.

Fullerton Denies Aiding Adoption. Their mother asserted she was not aware of the adoption proceedings until after the court made the order. She charges Fullerton helped to arrange the adoption. He denies this charge. He was confirmed in this by the testimony of Devereux Henderson, a lawyer who appeared for Abar in the Probate Court.

Abar and his wife left St. Louis with the Allen children after Mrs. Allen renewed her efforts to get the girls and the mother later located them in Canada across from Detroit and brought back her children to St. Louis.

In her charges against Fullerton, Mrs. Allen complains that he had represented she was not a fit woman for custody of the girls and that he withheld information from the court which resulted in the girls being temporarily taken from her.

She says that Fullerton recommended that the girls be placed with Abar although the latter had confessed that he and Mrs. Allen had been on very friendly terms. Fullerton in his statement at the trial Friday, admitted that Abar had made such a statement to him, but said there were circumstances which caused him (Fullerton) to act as he had done in the matter.

Fullerton Denies Getting $100.

Mrs. Allen and her daughter, Etta, testified to having heard that Abar told someone he would give Fullerton $100. Fullerton declared he never received a cent from the man.

In his statement to the Court of what he expected to prove, Attorney Walz said he would show that gifts had been received by Fullerton. When Etta Allen was on the stand, Fullerton, who conducted his own defense, brought out that the witness had given him presents of a necktie, a pair of purple socks and a pair of suspenders. Fullerton told the girl that if such gifts were not from the heart he would be glad to return them.

"I still have the articles, although the necktie is a little soiled from wear, the suspenders are as good as new. I don't wear suspenders," said Fullerton. Etta answered that she had not used for the articles and that he might keep them.

Defense Witness Makes Charges.

Fullerton called only one witness, Attorney Charles F. Krone, with whom he engaged in a colloquy. Krone, in answer to questions by Fullerton, admitted he had made derogatory statements concerning Fullerton at the City Club. "Did you not speak of me there as being either a knave or a fool?" asked Fullerton.

"I did," Krone admitted.

"Which?" asked Fullerton.

"Both," answered the witness.

On motion of Judge Koerner all of Krone's testimony was stricken out as without bearing on the case. Fullerton explained he had called Krone because the latter had made some "nasty charges" in connection with the Allen-Abar case.

The charges, if true would not only oust me from my present job, but would bar me from polite society," Fullerton said.

Fullerton made a statement of his case and declared that everything he did was conscientiously done and for the good of the children. He denied all intimations of any improper influence and declared that the houseboat in which Abar lived was nicely furnished and comfortable and contained five rooms.

IDEAL BAKERY, E. STATE ST.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

An elderly gentleman giving his name as Henry Cromwell of Chillicothe, Livingston county, Missouri, ate dinner yesterday at the Star restaurant on the north side. He told the men there that Sept. 2, 1867, he ate a lunch in Central park, this city, and had not eaten in the place since till yesterday. He did not tell where his home had been all that time nor did he give any other account of himself.

Rather a "Tall" Yarn.
Ralph of Coggeshall, an English abbot of the thirteenth century, told a staggering yarn: The Orford fishermen brought up one day in their nets a sea man who had no hair on his head, but a long ragged beard. Kept in Orford castle, he ate fish and meat both raw and cooked, but could not be made to speak. Yet, when the fishermen took him out one day for a swim, though he dived under the nets which they spread to prevent his escape and grinned derisively at them, he followed them back to land and captivity. At last, however, the "wild man" had had enough of it, managed to escape to sea and disappeared.

Natures Remedies for Disease.
Every fall in olden times the family medicine chest was replenished with roots, herbs and barks, nature's remedies for disease. Scullcap for nervousness, pennyroyal for colds, clove blossoms for the blood, thoroughwort for colds, wormwood and balm of Gilead buds for sprains, and so on. It is interesting to note that the most successful remedy for female ills the world has ever known had its origin nearly forty years ago from roots and herbs and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made today in immense quantities from these same roots and herbs with extreme accuracy, care and cleanliness. The standard remedy for female ills. (Adv.)

ATTEND NATIONAL GATHERING

Jacksonville is represented in the national meeting of Methodist men in progress at Indianapolis by Dr. J. R. Harker and Rev. P. A. McCarty who left the city Monday evening and expect to be gone all the week. The increasing of knowledge of missions, the relation of Methodism to other denominations, the securing of more men for the ministry and the regulation of church finances are among the problems scheduled for discussion during the four days of the convention. Among those present are a number of bishops, secretaries of various church boards, conference officers and editors and publishers of Methodist literature, as well as a large number of pastors, district superintendents and laymen.

WITH SICK PEOPLE.

Earl Carlisle of West Lafayette avenue is reported on the sick list. Miss Clara Louise Gause of South East street is suffering from an attack of the mumps.
J. A. Obermeyer was detained at home yesterday by illness.
George S. Gay has been kept from his store for several days with a lame ankle.
Charles Hopkins of 1012 North Fayette street is recovering from an attack of appendicitis.
Charles A. Rose, the East State street barber, has been confined to his home, 609 Jordan street, for several days on account of illness.

ELECTRIC SIGN.

A force of men was engaged in erecting a new electric sign in front of the Claus tea store on West State street Tuesday and the work will be completed today, so that the sign will be in working order tonight. The sign is quite an attractive one and the word "Claus" is studded with electric lights. It is so arranged that the two different sides light alternately.

George S. Richardson of the Point was in the city on business yesterday.

Evolution of the Sideboard.

The dresser began service in the kitchen as a table, advancing until it was composed of a top and two shelves below, supported by four legs. It was then used not so much as a place for dressing the meats as a serving table, on which dishes were placed before being allotted to the members of the household. At a later period a portion of the dresser became inclosed, and after that an extra shelf, with sometimes a hood, was placed on it. It was not then an article of kitchen furniture, but stood in the hall or living room. As a result of the desire to reduce the quantity of furniture in the hall the credence and dresser were combined in one article, with a closet and shelf below and several shelves above, the whole surmounted by a canopy. Then it was like some of our sideboards, though it was not known by that name until the eighteenth century, when it assumed the long, low table form, with drawers and cupboard below. The name sideboard prior to this had, however, been applied to tables as early as the sixteenth century.

The Eye as a Camera.

The human eye is a perfect photographer's camera. The retina is the dry plate on which are focused all objects by means of the crystalline lens. The cavity behind this lens is the shutter. The eyelid is the drop shuttle. The draping of the optical darkness is the only black membrane in the entire body. This miniature camera is self focusing, self loading and self developing and takes millions of pictures every day in colors and enlarged to life size. Charts have been prepared—marvelous charts—which go to show that the eye has 720 distinct expressions conveying as many distinct shades of meaning. The power of color perception is overwhelming. To perceive red the retina of the eye must receive three hundred and ninety-five million million vibrations in a second; for violet it must respond to seven hundred and ninety million million. In our waking moments our eyes are bombarded every minute by at least six hundred million million vibrations.—Chicago Tribune.

Shy, but Ferocious.

No European has ever been able to meet in their own dwelling places the Kukubuhus, a shy, yet ferocious tribe of New Guinea. Other tribes of the country, while they have a great fear of the Kukubuhus, manage to do a bartering trade with them. They bring salt, earthenware, dried fish, etc., and deposit them in a certain indicated place. They then retire for a few hours, being notified to do so by a curious cry from the distance. The mountain dwellers then descend to view the goods offered for sale. If they want them they put down other goods, such as skins, feathers and other jungle produce, next to those articles wanted by them. Then they retire in turn, and when the way seems clear the coast dwellers approach again. If the latter are satisfied with what is offered in exchange they take the goods put down by the mountain people and go away; if not satisfied they retire again as before with empty hands.—Argonaut.

Memory Erased by Sandbag.

Writing on "Confessions of Self Robbery and the Retroactive Amnesia" in Case and Comment, Professor E. B. Delabarre of Brown university tells the interesting fact that a concussion or blow from a sandbag will erase and drive from the brain of the memory occurrences happening within from three to five hours previous to the concussion, but will not disturb the impressions on the mind of previous occurrences. The author describes the effectiveness of this knowledge in securing complete confessions from "self robbed" individuals as follows: "I talked the matter over with J. B. Hume, at that time chief detective for Wells, Fargo & Co., and he forced a number of self robbed agents who were short and reported sandbagging robbery, to confess because a sandbag would not show any marks, but as they in each case told all particulars up to the blow of the sandbag he made them own up."

Insidious Humor.

A budding author who was making excursions into humor sent a paragraph to the editor of a daily paper. Not finding it printed within a reasonable time or hearing from the editorial department he wrote about its welfare: "I sent you a joke about ten days ago. I have heard nothing respecting its safe receipt, and should be glad to hear whether you have seen it." The editor's reply was as follows: "Your joke arrived safely, but up to the present we have not seen it."

Starting on Road to Success.
If you are to be successful you must ever keep in mind that your employer will have a much higher value of your services if he knows that you are observing what is going on around you and the work of your immediate superior. It is observing the small as well as the great things in business that counts. Attention, an intelligent imagination as well as observation, and you are on the high road to success.

An Optimist's View.
Misers were created for the purpose of showing others how little happiness there is to be derived from wealth.

Difference Between Two Words.
The vast difference between the words "may" and "shall" can be fittingly described by those who have gone before the parole board.

Mina Yuell, who for the past five years has resided at the home of J. E. Davenport in the Pisgah neighborhood, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid early Tuesday morning. The members of the family were attracted by her groans and she lived only a few minutes.

She arose at her usual hour Tuesday morning and when Mr. Davenport heard an unusual noise in the chicken yard he asked her to see what was the trouble. She reported that a chicken hawk was flying about and it was only a short time afterward that Mr. Davenport who found the girl lying on the floor suffering from the effects of carbolic acid which she had taken. Dr. J. M. Elmer of Franklin was called but the girl died before he arrived.

Coroner George W. Wright was called and he impaneled a jury composed of G. S. Beekman, foreman; Riley Spahnower, George Wood, T. B. Buchanan, James D. Pike and W. M. Beekman, clerk. The witnesses examined were Ernest Waters, Marjorie Davenport, Mrs. John E. Davenport and W. A. Masters and the jury returned a verdict that death was due to carbolic acid, administered by her own hand while in a despondent mood. The evidence developed that the suicide was premeditated as the girl had dressed herself in white and had written a note to the members of the Davenport family telling them good-bye. The girl was taken into the Davenport family about five years ago, coming from an institution in Quincy. She was in her sixteenth year.

Funeral services will be held at the residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in the cemetery at the Union Baptist church in Pisgah.
